Catherine McAuley

(Publisher's Note: We have never before included a biographical portrait of Catherine McAuley in our yearbook. Since "Mercy" was the theme of this school year, we have included this article as a dedication to Mother McAuley of the 1987 Salesian.)

Catherine McAuley was born in Dublin, Ireland in 1778. Her father, James McAuley, was a wealthy property owner who was known for his generosity and kindness to those less fortunate. It was quite unusual for a Catholic family to live as comfortably as the McAuleys did, for Ireland at the time was thoroughly dominated by the Protestant Ascendancy, a system which quite effectively kept most Catholics living in poverty, illiteracy and disease.

By all accounts, James McAuley was a remarkable man. It was common to see him teaching dozens of poorly-clad Catholic children on the steps of the McAuley family home. Catherine's father genuinely believed that every Christian person was obligated to teach those who had not yet received religious instruction.

Tragedy befell the McAuley family when Catherine's father died in 1785. Deprived of her husband's business acumen,

Mrs. McAuley began to squander the family fortune. She had long been known as one of Dublin's leading socialites, and she eventually moved Catherine and her brother James and sister Mary from their home in the countryside into the heart of the city. More financial hardships followed; Catherine and her brother and sister were deprived of the solid religious foundations that they had received from their father. It was a terrible time for Catherine, who felt torn between her loyalty to her mother and an increasingly powerful call to a life of prayer and service.

Mrs. McAuley died quite suddenly in 1798; her death meant that Catherine and her younger brother and sister had been orphaned, never an easy thing, but especially perilous in 18th-century Ireland. Catherine, James and Mary were sent to live with a Protestant family. A year later, Catherine began to live with an elderly childless couple, Mr. and Mrs. William Callahan. Catherine returned to her Catholic faith, attending Mass regularly, and receiving encouragement from Father Daniel Murray, the future Archbishop of Dublin. Catherine's keen sense of social responsibility was developed during this time. She visited the sick, did what she could for the needy, and often taught about the faith to those who understood little about the Church.

When William Callaghan died in 1822, he left his inheritance to Catherine. She sold the house in which they had lived, and used the money to build a home for the poor and homeless women of Dublin. This home was built on Baggot Street in Dublin, and quickly became known as a home of mercy for the poor, the homeless and the many orphans of the city. Soon, other young women of conscience were drawn to Baggot Street to assist Catherine in her work. After many years at her home for the poor, Catherine agreed to begin a religious order, known as the Sisters of Mercy. Catherine chose this name since by coincidence, Baggot Street had been officially dedicated on September 24, 1827, the feast day of Our Lady of Mercy. In January 1832, the first seven Sisters of Mercy entered the order. Many professions followed.

The Sisters were known as "the walking nuns." Unlike most religious women of the time, they spent their days on the streets of Dublin, caring for those in need. It was an unusual sight for the time, but one which inspired scores of new vocations for the Sisters of Mercy.

Catherine McAuley died on November 11, 1841. She was a prolific writer, and wrote these words in 1832: Each day is a step we make towards eternity; and we shall continue thus to step from day to day until we take the last step which will bring us into the presence of God.

As I begin to write this message, I am anxiously anticipating the day that the Salesian arrives at Mt. de Sales, and envisioning your response the moment it reaches your hands.

No doubt you will first quickly but carefully examine every photo to determine exactly how many times the Salesian staff chose your smiling face to represent MDS. Despite this, few of you will pause and question why it is so important that your face is preserved on the pages of your yearbook. The answer is simple: the more often you are pictured, the more a part of this school you truly feel. This thought remains a natural impulse, and the staff responded to this by including a wide variety of people and settings to increase your chance of discovering your own face on more than one page.

Most of you will then turn the book over and begin glancing through the photos again; now that you know where you are, you want to know what the Publications staff felt was worth capturing on film and in print. Like your first look, your inspection will take little time and entice little sentimentality. You will look at the Homecoming pictures and try to recall the person with whom you spent the evening, rocking to AJ the DJ; you will look at the football pages and soon remember the cold and windy nights we cheered the Cavaliers to victory and the celebrations at Krystal that followed the games. You will see the Fun Night competition and rack your brain to recall which class won the competition (to save you the trouble, I will gladly remind you that the current senior class dominated the events!), which events you participated in, and who lost his balance while running back to tag his classmate in the Dizzy-Izzy.

For the majority of you, this is when you will close your book, hand it to a friend to be autographed, and search for a pen to sign the one which has just been laid on your desk.

But for my sake, I hope each of you will look through the 1987 Salesian just one more time.

You have examined each photograph to find your face and to remember an event, and now it is time to examine the feelings behind the pictures. Do this slowly and the third time will bring back the joy and the pain that surrounded us at Mt. de Sales this year. Glance first at the results of the student questionnaire; try to remember the first time you heard your favorite song: Were you with someone you really cared for? Were you at a friend's house? Were you in need in motivation to achieve a goal? Soon you will remember that you chose that particular song because it prompted a reaction from you - whether it be anger, love, depression or elation.

Then, move on to the picture that commemorates January 9th, and that unforgettable moment when Sister Fidelis announced her resignation, effective January 1, 1988. A rush of emotions followed her words. We were thankful for her 17 years of dedicated service, intrigued at the thought of the inevitable changes that we will experience, yet genuinely saddened at the knowledge that a part of us will go when she leaves us. Like a family which pulls together in times of unexpected change, we drew closer and recognized the need for even greater unity in the year ahead.

It was this unity that cheered our boys basketball team on to an undefeated regular season. It was this unity which overpowered the Stratford Eagles and clinched the Region Championship and a polished 20-0 record. This unity was most strongly tested on February 26, when we accepted defeat at the hands of the Southland Raiders. We trailed until late in the game, and the instant that David Prati scored to put us in the lead, we all felt like the Sixth Man, and we knew our spirit would carry the Cavaliers to the state championship winner's circle. But all that spirit could not prevent Southland from scoring with four seconds left. At that moment, a hush fell over the entire student section . . . No one made a sound, in the hope that this was all some kind of a bad dream, and if we were patient, the horrible nightmare would simply go away. Everyone stared at the boys on the court who had not lost a game; no one could believe that we were not going to be the 1987 State Champions. No one could believe that this was the end of a perfect season. No one could believe that this was the last game that would ever be played by Jason Boyd, Colin Brown, Troy Edwards, Rob Garvin, Jim Lamarca, Cliff Pool and Dale Sheffield. No one.

For you who are underclassmen, this may seem insignificant, because this is not your final year at MDS. My words may be somewhat meaningless; you are perhaps too busy thinking of clever messages with which to fill your friend's book. But for the seniors, the third time we reflect on the Salesian will touch us deeply. As we realize now that our days are numbered and our futures uncertain, we also realize that we have for the final time collaborated on a skit for Homecoming, participated in our last Fun Night, and attended our last football and basketball games as high school seniors. We will no longer work together on class projects like Junior/Senior, nor attend Mass together, and sadly will soon face the day when we must say goodbye to friends and teachers we love and cherish.

For the seniors' sake, please take a third look at the Salesian. If you do, you will find the book more meaningful, and a true representation of MDS. And, in years to come, you will open this book again and instantly feel the unity that is so much a part of that Mt. de Sales experience. And no matter how long ago you walked on this campus, you will feel like a Cavalier again. For we are all Cavaliers, for all of our lives. And we have been blessed to share our love with one another within the true heart of Mount de Sales.

So please, for your sake, look a third time.

Sincerely,

Libby

The Year That Was

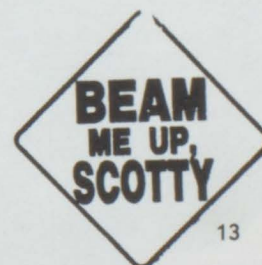

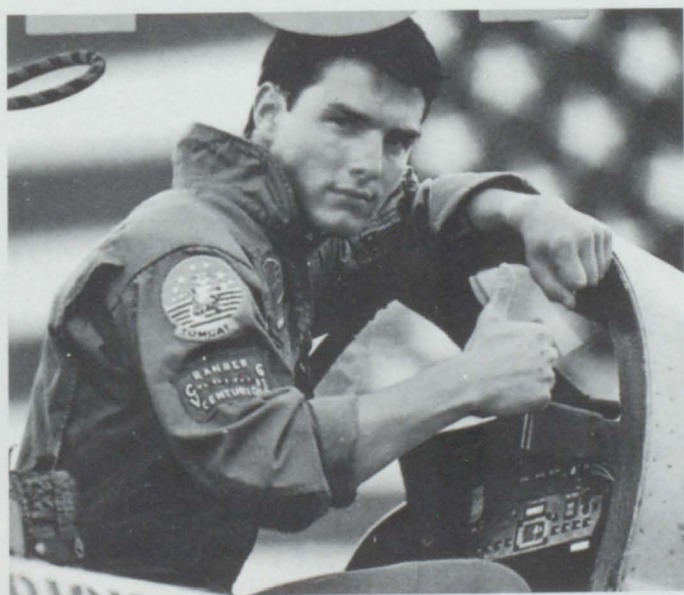

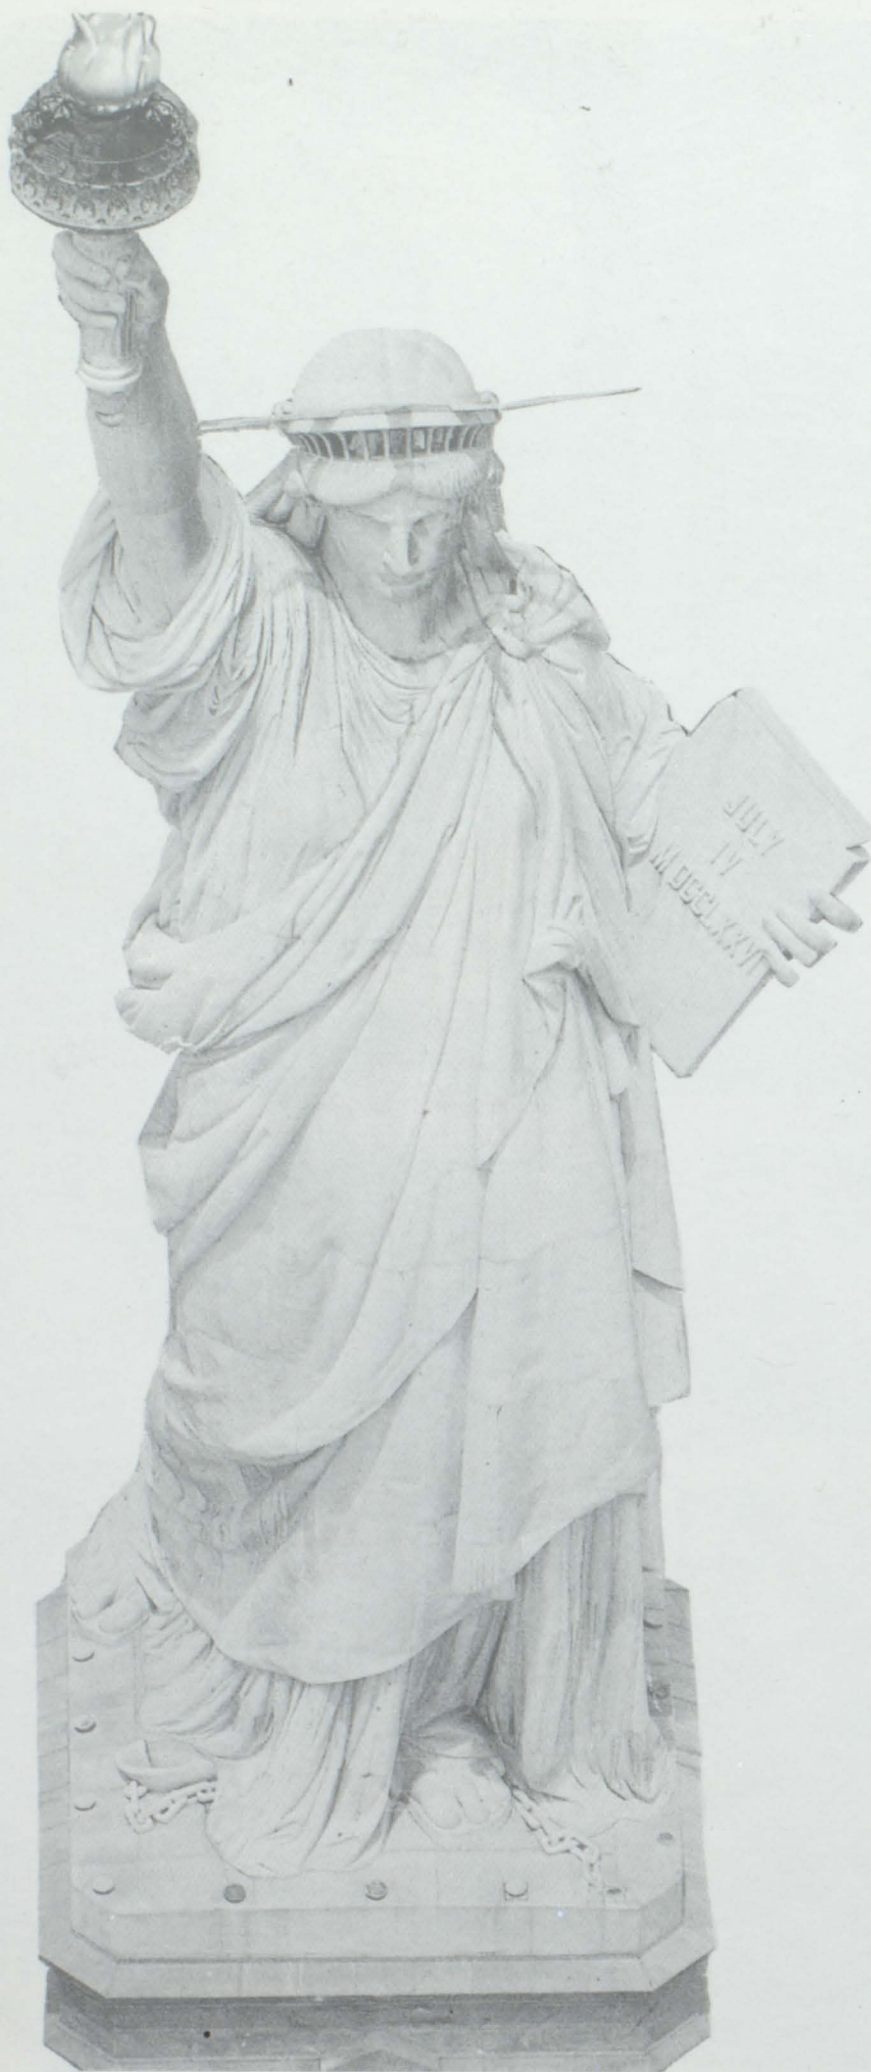

It was a year of triumph and tragedy. It was a year in which Dennis Connor reclaimed the America's Cup and the year in which the death of Len Bias shocked the nation into the seriousness of the cocaine epidemic. It was a year in which an American, Greg LeMond, became the first cyclist from our country to win the prestigious Tour de France.

In the field of entertainment, it was a varied and interesting year. Max Headroom, the first non-human talk show host and soft drink person, appeared on bill boards around the country, while on the roads below those billboards, rear windows were festooned with triangular yellow signs of all descriptions.

Madonna affected a persona strikingly similar to Marilyn Monroe and Tom Cruise was Top Gun in the skies and at the box office. Paul Hogan as "Crocodile Dundee" taught us how to speak Australian, and Bruce Springsteen proved to be an enduring American artist.

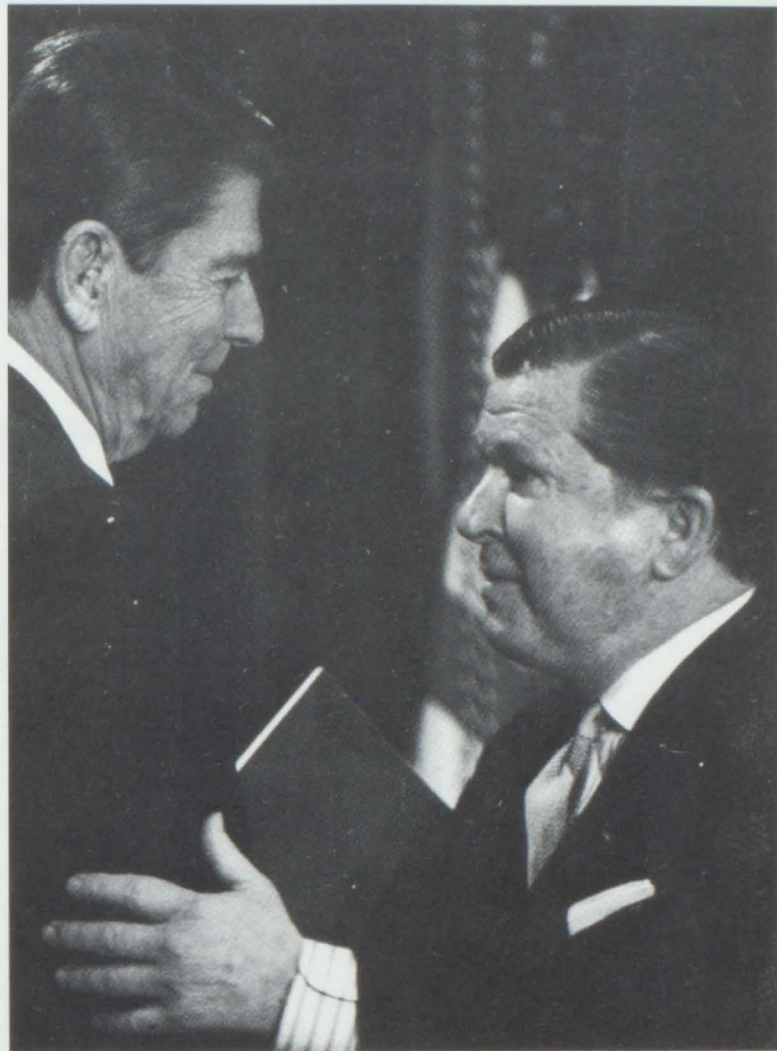

It was a year of celebration.

We celebrated the centennial of the Statue of Liberty with a spectacularly American bash. It was a year of celebration for two newlywed couples. Sarah Ferguson married Prince Andrew of Great Britain, and Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the late President was married in a gala social event in New York City.

It was a year of political miracles and political madness. In the Philippines, Corazon Aquino celebrated the first anniversary of the return of democracy to her country. It was a year when terrorism continued to threaten the security of the West; it was a year when Terry Waite safely brought hostages home, then himself disappeared; it was a year when the names of Ronald Reagan and Oliver North were first spoken together.

Board of Trustees

The Mount de Sales Board of Trustees, the governing body of our school: Seated, Sister M. Jogues Smith, R.S.M., Sister Santa Maria D'Angelo, Mrs. Connie Thunte, Sister Lourdes Sheehan, R.S.M. Standing, Mr. Dan Dunwody, Sister Virgilia Ross, C.S.J., Mr. Chris Rouse, Mr. Robert Porter, Monsignor Marvin LeFrois, Sister Mary Fidelis Barragan, R.S.M. (President), Dr. Bobby Jones, Mr. David J. Zuver (Chairman), Reverend William Hurdle (Vice-Chairman), Dr. Norman Smith, Mr. Chester Pierce, Mrs. Jan Manning (Recording Secretary).

Dear Cavaliers:

This letter will serve as both my first and final message as Chairman of the Board of Trustees to you, the students of Mount de Sales.

During my lifetime I have served on many boards, but this one, without a doubt, has been the most rewarding because of the dedicated commitment by each member to Mt. de Sales. Without exception, every person on the Board has unhesitatingly accepted every challenge presented.

The Board is more than just a governing body. It is an amalgam of individuals, each of whom has made a significant contribution to the past, present and future success of Mt. de Sales. They are a highly diverse group consisting of religious, Catholics and those of other faiths, doctors, educators, accountants, business men and women. In most cases these individuals are only names and you probably perceive the Board to be rather remote because we have no direct line of communication with you. For that reason I welcome the opportunity to provide a little insight into the workings of the Board.

Our principal objective has always been to provide a quality education for each of you, to prepare you to further your education in college, and then to move on to a useful and productive life in society.

The Board has been called upon to make many tough decisions through the years, some of which were probably not popular with every member of the Mount de Sales family. As you mature and move through life, you will better appreciate the fact that responsibility is an integral part of life which sometimes calls for difficult decisions. As long as those decisions are made in good conscience and with the best interests of those affected always in mind, criticism is more readily accepted.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I want to wish each of you every success with your education, career and home life. As you proceed through life, my only hope is that you will look back on your Mount de Sales days with better appreciation for the Christian education provided in this Mercy school.

Sincerely,

David J. Zuver
David J. Zuver, Chairman
MDS Board of Trustees

My dear Seniors,

For twelve years now you have waited for a day in May - the day of graduation. Now, May 1987 is finally here and your years at Mt. de Sales are stretching behind you rather than before you. It is time for you to go, and your eagerness to embark upon new experiences lights up your faces and refreshes the hearts of those you leave behind. The joy with which you face the future reflects the joy of living that has been characteristic of you since you came to Mt. de Sales. Our time together began when you walked into Burke Hall - that Freshman domain - and soon all of MDS knew, the Class of '87 had arrived. You were the "greenest", the loudest, the talkin-gest and at times, the rowdiest Cavaliers of all. Still, you survived and the molding of the spirit of the Class of 1987 had begun.

The years from 1983 to 1987 were like so many others - years of change: changes in government, in styles, in music, in personalities. Closest to home, though, were the changes in you during those years from Freshmen to graduating Seniors . . .

You are wiser now, for you have met and mastered the myths of ancient Greece, the works of Emerson and Hemingway, the tragedies of Shakespeare. You have walked with Pythagoras, Descartes, and Euclid. You have peered into the microscopic world of cells and into the vastness of space. You have relived and questioned the experiences of the past that have molded the present. You have dreamed of things that might be. You have known the pain of disappointments and defeats as well as the thrill of achievement and victory . . . And still you have kept in your hearts the joyful spirit that is yours.

You are more giving now. You have learned that "you give little when you give of your possessions; it is when you give of yourself that you truly give." (Kahlil Gibran, The Prophet.) You have reached out your hands in so many ways. As Freshmen, you joined hands and worked toward common goals at Homecoming and Fun Night. Remember "The Lone Cavalier" and building the pyramid! In your Sophomore year, your Christmas gift to us all was "The Dawn." You and Sr. Regina put in hours of preparation in order to share a new version of a beloved old story. As Juniors, you worked so hard to achieve a beautiful tribute to the Class of 1986 as you planned "Romance in the Orient." When you assumed the role of leaders in this, your Senior year, you took upon yourselves new responsibilities and faced new challenges. Sometimes, you fell short, but you were never down and out. You continued to give of yourselves on the playing fields and in the gyms, in tournaments and playoffs, in Liturgy, in the renewal of an old tradition - the Candlelight Carol Service, a magnificent tribute of gift-giving at Christmas. You were giving of the spirit that is you, not always knowing that you did so . . .

You are more loving now. You have learned to accept others, though they may be different from you. You have learned to respect the ideas and values of others. You have learned to rejoice with each other and to cry with each other; to talk to each other and to hear one another. Out of all your distinctiveness, out of all your individual likes and dislikes, you have become a class unto yourselves. And in these bittersweet days that mark the end of your years at Mt. de Sales, you have discovered the true meaning of friendship.

To be asked to write this, the last message to you, the Class of 1987, has been my joy. Our time together has been too brief, but it has been a time of learning, of sharing, of caring. And I, along with the other members of your faculty, have been witness to the flowering of your joyful spirit. In closing, I quote again from Kahlil Gibran's The Prophet:

Think not that I say these things in order that you might say the one to the other, "(She) praised us well. (She) saw but the good in us." I only spoke to you in words of that which you yourselves know in thought.

I would have you remember your years at MDS as years of promises, not just memories, and this your Senior year, as a beginning, not the end.

I love you all,

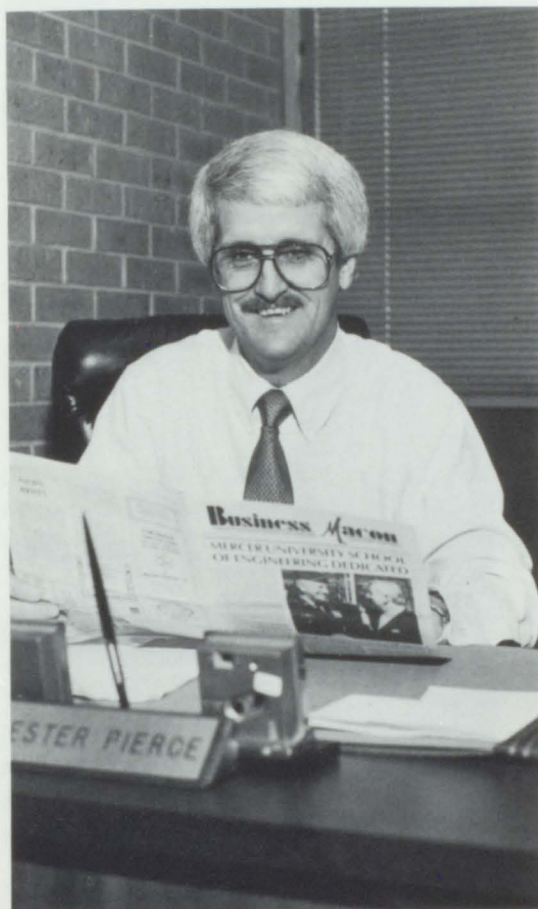

Mrs. Garvin

Sister Mary Fidelis, R.S.M., (Principal) has been Mt. de Sales' principal for the last 17 years. She came to MDS after serving as Principal at St. Vincent's Academy in Savannah. Under her leadership, our student body has doubled in size, two new buildings have been added to our campus (Burke and De Sales Halls) and several pieces of property adjacent to the campus have been purchased.

In addition to these obvious accomplishments, Sister Fidelis is very active in the MDS Development Program, which was begun in 1978. It is this program which will insure the future of Mt. de Sales, and Sister has spent many hours and days establishing this lifeline to our future.

Last but not least, Sister Fidelis has been our cheerleading moderator during this school year!

Sister Helen McCreary, R.S.M. is a Mt. de Sales alumna; she attended MDS in the years when it was a boarding school for girls only. Sister Helen comments that "Sisters of Mercy were the only teachers I had from grade one through the end of my undergraduate degree."

Sister Helen has studied at Mt. St. Agnes College in Baltimore, the University of Dayton, and Fordham University in New York City.

Before returning to her alma mater in 1973, Sister Helen taught at 7 different schools; at three of those schools she was principal.

Her keenest interests are politics and service to the Church. Sister Helen works tirelessly for the needy, and is vitally concerned with world-wide issues such as hunger and nuclear war.

Sister Helen is a quiet and prayerful teacher, and is well-known for her efforts in organizing our annual Ash Wednesday Memorial Mass.

Mrs. Charlotte Mason came to MDS in 1981 and has taught Math to upperclassmen ever since.

Mrs. Mason graduated as valedictorian of her class in McCreary County, Kentucky, where she was active in drama, Math Club and Beta Club. She recalls that she once took a test in order to skip taking a home economics class and did so well on the test that she won a local competition sponsored by the Betty Crocker Company!

Mrs. Mason graduated with high honors from Eastern Kentucky University, which she attended on a full academic scholarship. While at ECU, she was editor of Belles Lettres, the University's literary magazine.

Before coming to MDS, Mrs. Mason taught in Columbus and Valdosta. She once taught a Sunday school class for children who were deaf and retarded. "They taught me a great deal," she recalls.

Mrs. Mason's husband Tom, is an accountant and both of their children are MDS students. Ben is in this year's graduating class, and Ann is a current freshman.

Mr. Ken Hutnick came to MDS in 1979 after 20 years in the U.S. Air Force and three years of teaching at Fort Valley State College.

Mr. Hutnick has earned degrees from St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia, the University of Pittsburgh, Arizona State University, Georgia College and Mercer University. He has specialized in studying science and engineering, and has taught math and science at Mt. de Sales.

Two of Mr. Hutnick's children graduated from MDS; his son Ken (Class of '82) was recently discharged after serving in the U.S. Army's Ranger Division.

Mr. Hutnick and his wife, Fran, own a beautifully restored historic home on Orange Street; Mr. Hutnick is a permanent deacon in the Catholic Church.

Mrs. Beth Grovenstein is in her sixth year at MDS; she came to MDS in 1981 after two years at Cross Keys Academy, where she taught all kinds of math.

Mrs. Grovenstein is one of many members of our faculty who graduated from A. L. Miller High School; she was active in Beta Club, and was a Governor's Honors Nominee. She graduated from Mercer in 1973 with a major in Math and a minor in French; she finished her Master's Degree, also at Mercer, in 1985.

Mrs. Grovenstein's brother, Alan Taylor, graduated from MDS in 1986; her son Rob is in our 8th grade. Her two youngest children are students at St. Joseph's School.

Mrs. Grovenstein's husband, Bob, was previously in the Air Force; one of his tours of duty was at the Presidential retreat at Camp David, Md.

Mrs. Sandra Tate returned to teaching in 1980 when she came to Mt. de Sales; the previous nine years were spent in what she describes as "professional motherhood."

Mrs. Tate graduated from Webster County High School, where she was Star Student and Valedictorian of her class. She also was editor of her high school yearbook and participated in basketball, drama, and music events.

She graduated from Georgia State University with a degree in English and was a member of the Crimson Key Honor Society.

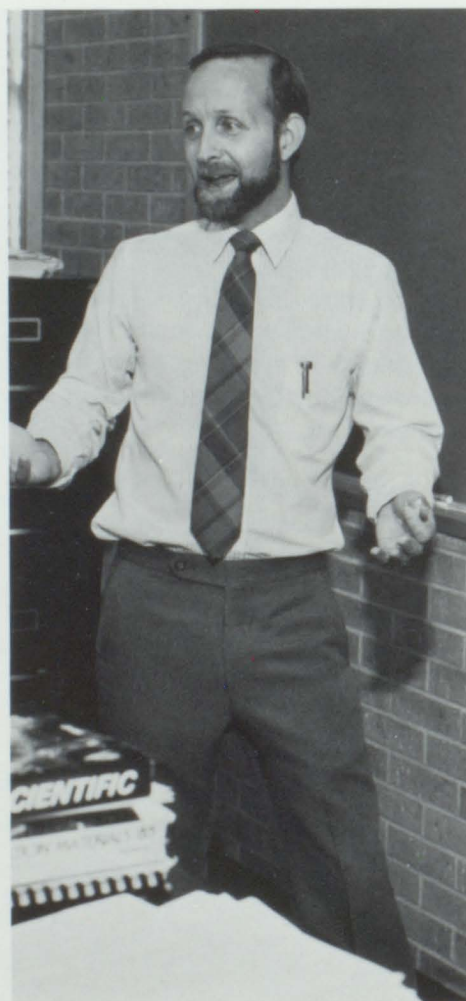

Mrs. Tate and her husband, Julian, have "an assortment of seven children and three grandchildren," including Susan Wills, a member of our 8th grade class. Mrs. Tate says that she and her husband have "a myriad of experiences to share and wisdom to impart. We are just waiting for the day when our children want to hear it!"

Mr. Ron McLachlan is the only member of our faculty who drives a motorcycle; he is also the only member of our faculty who graduated from a high school in Salisbury, Missouri!

Mr. McLachlan was active in 4-H, played drums in the band, managed the basketball team, and lettered in baseball for two years. He was also active in other areas. He says that, "Junior-Senior my junior year was great," and that "the senior play was also great (I ran the sound system)."

Mr. McLachlan earned his Bachelor's Degree in philosophy from Immaculate Conception Seminary; he earned a Master's Degree in Science Education at the University of Georgia in 1978.

He is an avid handball player, and specializes in moderating the Junior Class and in overseeing the Junior-Senior.

Mrs. Gwen Weston came to MDS in 1985 to teach junior English.

She graduated from Miller High School and earned a degree in English from Mercer University. After college, Mrs. Weston returned to Miller as a sophomore English teacher (at age 21), and says that "sitting in the teachers' lounge with my former teachers and calling them by their first names was a riot!"

Mrs. Weston has also taught at Ballard Jr. High and Miller "A". In addition, she spent a number of years teaching pre-school and says that "several of my pre-schoolers are now my students at MDS."

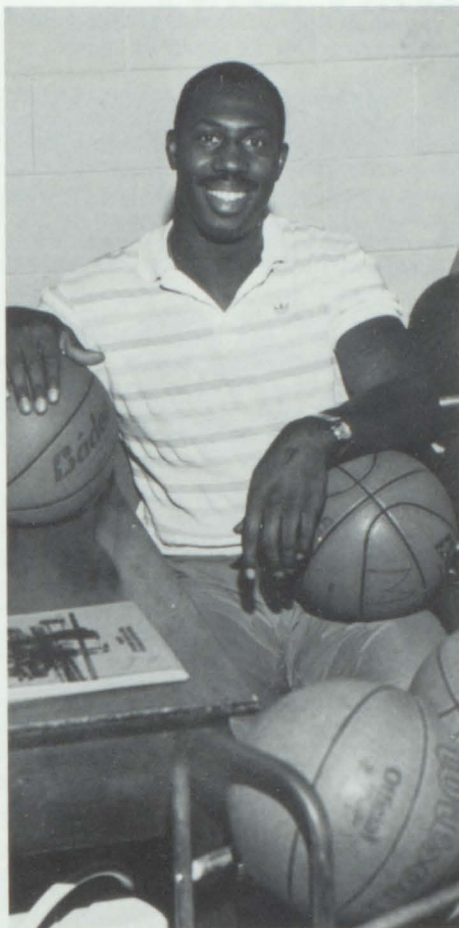

Mrs. Weston's husband, Charles, is a First Assistant District Attorney in the Macon Judicial District. Their son Charlie is an MDS freshman, and their daughter Leslie will enter our new 7th grade next year.

The Weston family is very active in sports, especially softball, basketball and tennis. Mrs. Weston says that her participation is mostly limited to "keeping the cushions and lawn chair in the car!"

Sister Grace Marie Dillard, R.S.M. is another former Mt. de Sales student who returned to her alma mater. She was Salutatorian of her class, and edited the yearbook and student newspaper. Sr. Grace Marie was also active in sports, chorus and drama.

Sr. Grace Marie has studied at Mt. St. Agnes in Baltimore and also at Catholic University, Fordham University and Georgia State. Her teaching experiences include stops in Rockville, Maryland, Baltimore and Columbus, GA. She first taught at MDS in 1968 and has been on our faculty for 17 years.

Sr. Grace Marie recalls that "Sr. Elizabeth was my P.E. teacher. We had no gym, and the softball field was where St. Joseph Hall now sits. I attended Mt. de Sales when it was a boarding school, all-female, both students and faculty. Music and art were required courses; physics and calculus were not offered, nor thought to be useful in any way for educated young ladies."

Mr. Kevin Dockrell came to Mt. de Sales in 1980, after several years spent working in radio broadcasting. He worked at WBML, WDEN-FM, and WRBN-FM in Warner Robins throughout the mid-and late 1970's.

He graduated with honors from high school in Bucks County, Pa., and went on to study history and theology at the University of Notre Dame. While at Notre Dame, he worked at the student radio station, wrote for the student literary magazine, and drove a taxi.

During his high school years, Mr. Dockrell lettered in football and wrestling, participated in drama and debate and worked at McDonald's where he says, "I estimate that I fried 100,000 hamburgers."

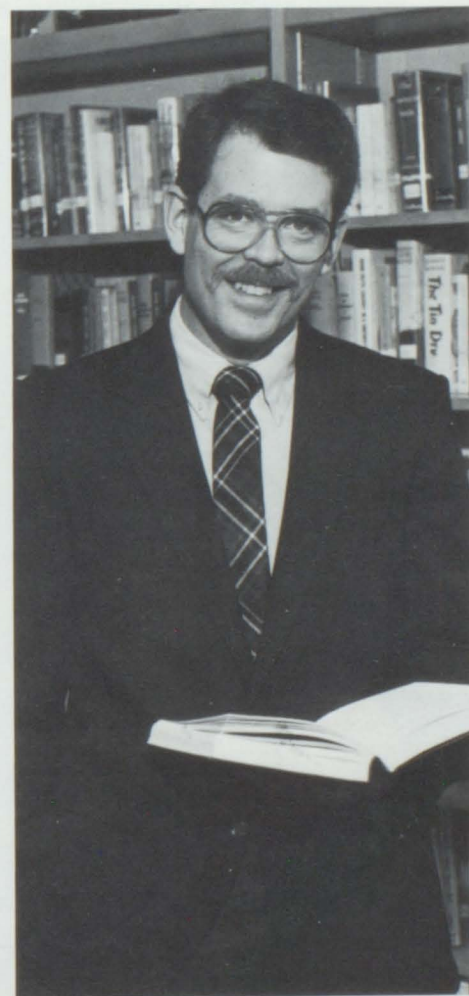

Mr. Dockrell's wife, Sherry, is a neurosurgical nurse. They have three children; Cory and Cindy, who are students at St. Joseph's, and Andrew, who is 18 months old.

Coach Robert Slocum graduated from MDS in 1974, and in his senior year the Cavaliers won the state championship in football, finishing with a perfect record of 14-0.

He attended Savannah State College on a football scholarship and was offensive captain in his senior year; he also earned all-conference honors in his junior and senior years. Coach Slocum was not only an athlete in college; he was chosen as student government Vice-President in his senior year.

Coach Slocum returned to Mt. de Sales after graduating from college and has been here ever since.

Coach Slocum and his wife, Sarah, have two children: Brian, 4, and Blair, age 1.

Mt. de Sales is fortunate to have these four new teachers on our faculty this year . . .

1 Mrs. Lindsey Skinner graduated from high school in London, England in 1967; she was in England at the time that the Beatles and Rolling Stones were making pop music history, and says that "living in London was an experience in itself. My school was located on the site of an old POW camp, and was surrounded by a barbed wire fence."

Mrs. Skinner has degrees from Georgia Southern and Texas Christian University. She is a certified psychometrist, and previously taught in Cleveland, Tennessee and Fort Worth, Texas. Her husband, Harry, is a native of Macon, and their two children are students at St. Joseph's school.

2 Mrs. Vicki Wheeler is a native Maconite. She graduated from Miller High School and studied junior high education at Georgia Southern. Before coming to MDS this year, she taught at Ballard "B", and had worked as a caseworker for the McIntosh County Department of Family and Children's Services.

Mrs. Wheeler and her husband, Fred, spent 11 years in the shrimping industry in McIntosh County. They owned their own 60-foot shrimp boat. Their two children are students at Springdale Elementary school.

3 Mrs. Donna Washburn is a native of Macon. She graduated from Lasseter High School and studied music at Wesleyan College. While in high school she was a member of the All-State Chorus, and she was the recipient of several music awards and scholarships.

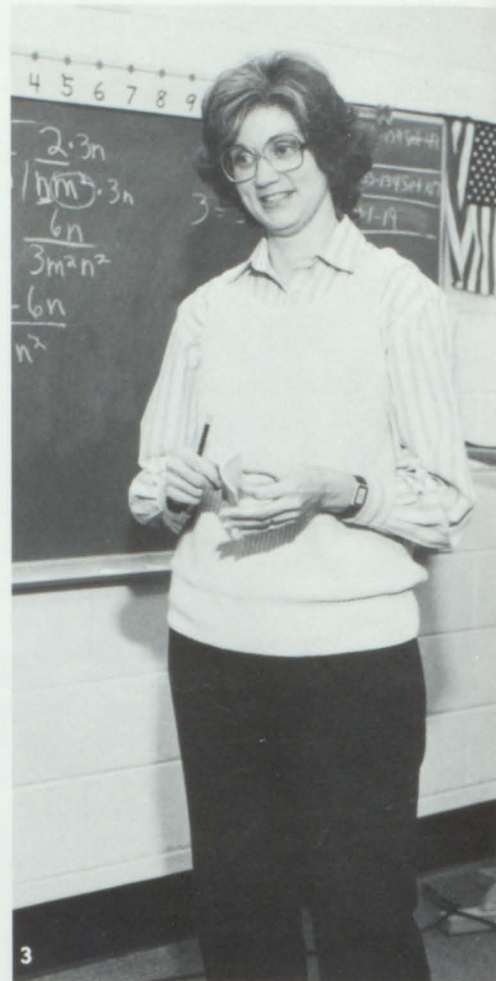

Mrs. Washburn has been a church organist since she was 16 years old, and is currently organist at Vineville Baptist Church. She first came to MDS last year, when she helped our vocalists prepare for Literary Competition.

Mrs. Washburn's husband, Dale, is a member of the Jones County Commission. They have four children.

4 Mrs. Annette Harings is no stranger to Mt. de Sales. Her daughter Carolyn graduated last year, and her daughter Kathy is a member of our current junior class.

Mrs. Harings' husband is a Lieutenant Colonel in the Air Force, and they have lived in Michigan, South Carolina, Oregon, Colorado, North Dakota, Hawaii and Georgia.

Before coming to MDS, Mrs. Harings taught health, P.E., physical science and earth science in Michigan and South Carolina.

The Mercy Charism

MDS has always encouraged its students to attend religious retreats, and on the weekend of February 6, the faculty took a break from our normal routines for a weekend devoted to a study of the Mercy charism, first exemplified by Catherine McAuley.

The weekend began with a discussion of the Myers-Briggs Personality Index. Each of us had filled out the Myers-Briggs index and we received an excellent explanation of the results from Mercy Sisters Barbara Mary Wheeley and Marie Foley.

After a short afternoon break, we returned for dinner (prepared, as always, by Mrs. Jeannie Taylor), and a short prayer service, built along the idea of commitment to service in the Mercy tradition.

Saturday included a brief but informative presentation about Mother McAuley's ministry of teaching, which was presented by Sister Mary Michelle Carroll. We then enjoyed a Mercy missioning ceremony, in which each of us was formally invited into the Mercy family of teachers. Part of this ceremony included a candle-lighting accompanied by a spoken message about each of us, which was written by our colleagues. Each of us was invited to write a few lines about a few of our co-workers; these lines were then put together into a short but revealing statement about each of us. Here are some excerpts: Mrs. Mary Boyd "has genuine tenderness in her heart for the vulnerable student." Mrs. Jane Claxton was cited for her "conscientious and creative teaching" and was called our "caregiver." Sr. Pat Coward "brings sparkle to the ordinary and challenge to the uninspired"; Coach Randy Davis is a man "whose gentle spirit is often masked by the intensity with which he cares." Sr. Grace Marie was spoken of "for always giving mercifully and consistently without reward," and Mr. Kevin Dockrell was described as "a man of many talents and enormous energy, always ready for a new challenge." Coach Mike Garvin has "the wisdom and skill of one who has labored in the Father's vineyards"; his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Garvin, is known as "a loving woman with a smile that can warm a room and the gentle hand of a mother."

Sr. Fidelis is "strong and committed; her own person belonging to each of us and all of us"; Mrs. Fry is a woman of "devotion to her faith, her students, and this school." Mrs. Simonne Gray was described as "a woman with the sensitivity to see beneath each child's facade" and Mrs. Beth Grovenstein is "a dedicated teacher who always has the time." Mrs. Annette Harings "is one of those remarkable teachers who can combine joy and humor with quiet determination" and Mr. Ken Hutnick has "a forgiving manner and brings balance to us all." As for Mrs. Madge Knott, "ask her for one favor and she will give you two."

Mrs. Jan Manning "radiates kindness, warmth, understanding and support," while Mrs. Charlotte Mason "gives freely, generously and ever so gently of herself." "By caring for her students" Sr. Helen McCreary "quietly teaches them to care for others." "A gifted teacher" Mr. Ron McLachlan "is infinitely patient with students and colleagues who want his gifts," and Mrs. Mary Frances Peery "combines dedication and hard work with a wry sense of humor."

Our assistant principal, Mr. Chester Pierce is "a peacemaker who brings calm" and "instills a sense of unity in our school." Coach Tony Pierce "is a man of few words with a big heart," and Mr. Jim Ray is known for his "understanding and compassionate heart." "Talented, creative, generous, with drive and persistence" is Miss Anne Rigby, and Mrs. Lindsey Skinner is "warm and witty . . . our very own Helen of Troy." Coach Robert Slocum has "a sweet spirit" and mends "broken hearts, broken heads, broken limbs and broken lockers."

When Mrs. Sandra Tate "enters the room, she brings peace and comfort." Mrs. Brenda Timms "is a sensitive, creative and enthusiastic woman" of "unlimited energy." "A popular teacher, a leader of alumni, with a keen sense of humor and a hearty laugh" - that's Mr. Michael Vullo. Mrs. Donna Washburn "uses her gifts to praise God through music", and is "talented, well-trained, and energetic."

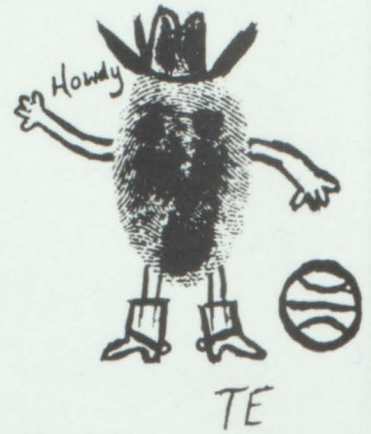

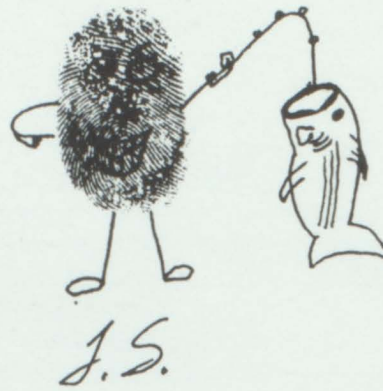

Our day together concluded with a Mass of beauty and song, and we left with a newfound feeling of involvement in the Mercy ministry.

It was a weekend well-spent.

Lea Dunaway won a state championship with form and talent like this.

Doris and Mary Catherine, inseparable!

Close one eye and squint the other slightly. Turn the tube slowly and watch as the colorful beads fall onto the mirrors and form the patterns of our days at Mount de Sales.

The first image that appears is one of faces eager to learn and scared of being high school freshmen. As we tumbled between classrooms, playing fields, church pews and bleachers in our green shirts, we learned about each other, our teachers, and the school where we would spend the next four years. Each of us reflected many different colors and shapes in the beginning, but as Homecoming Week approached, we took shape and formed an image of togetherness and unity as we pulled together to write a skit and draw a banner.

A few rapid turns of the tube and the faces are one year older and many years wiser. As the tube takes a sad turn, tears are reflected off the glass when the state basketball championship is lost by one point, but the images quickly shift into smiles on the faces of square dancers in The Dawn, and carolers in the gym.

The beads fall into an Oriental pattern as the focus is on the Junior-Senior prom. We joined hands to construct a gazebo, assemble cherry trees and hang a crepe paper ceiling, and we opened our hearts to a theme of romance. We proved our excellence from North to South: at a debate Tournament at Harvard and a softball tournament in Tifton.

A quick swirl of the kaleidoscope and we become leaders on Moving-Up Day. We juggle senior activities and free periods with college applications and conferences with Mr. Ray. Our hands stay busy with cheering, wrapping presents for the needy, and writing bibliography cards. Our heads meet the challenge of our studies and our extracurricular activities. Our eyes and ears absorb every aspect of our conformist society, while our mouths speak a unique vernacular. Our hearts expand with gifts for the needy during Christmas time and with small tokens of appreciation to our teachers during Thanksgiving. It is our hearts that bring us to basketball and tennis practice every day and it will be our hearts that guide us through the remainder of our senior year.

Our hands never rest as our heads dream of the future and as our hearts grow heavy at the thought of the final reflection of the Class of 1987 - graduation.

Activities

French Mass

This year, as in years past, MDS French students sponsored a French Mass. The Mass was said by Father Bede Lightner, former MDS assistant principal, and was held in St. Joseph's Church. (Above left) Angie Vestal, Jennifer Stevens, Jill Genone, Marcus Durham help themselves to the French smorgasbord; (Below left) Miss Anne Rigby did a fine job of preparing the students for the Mass; (Below right) Third-year French students George Cleveland, Brad Scott, Kinman Smith, and Kappi Brown had the "pleasure" of serving their first- and second-year counterparts.

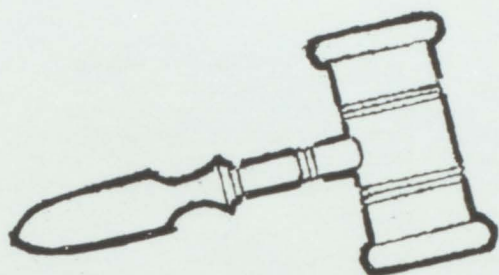

Debate

In 1986-87, the Mt. de Sales Debate Team continued its tradition of excellence. Our debaters again participated in the Wiregrass Debate Tournament in Tifton in November, and finished third in the Region 2-AAA Debate Tournament in January.

It was the largest Debate Team that MDS has ever had, with more students participating and earning valuable experience, whether varsity or novice.

Under the skillful guidance of Mrs. Sandra Tate, our debaters made a fine showing for themselves and for MDS.

Kathy Koski and Trisha Hinman earned special recognition for their excellent participation in the Mercer University Debate Institute.

Literary Competition - Another State Championship

Pictured above center are those MDS students who helped win the championship last year, and have not yet graduated: Tanya Lewellen, Reggie Cummings, Jana Barfield. Leann Hardison, and Tina Valdecanas.

At left, our winning girls' trio; Jana Barfield, Tanya Lewellen and Gail Pagala. At right, Leann Hardison, who won the Region Championship in piano Solo, and finished third in the state.

Lassie McDowell (right) was honored as MDS's Star Student for 1987, by earning the highest composite SAT score in her class. Lassie chose Coach Mike Garvin as her STAR Teacher.

Our Math Club operated this year in a different way than in past years. There was large group of students who participated, and smaller groups were chosen for various competitions. Pictured at left are the 27 students who participated in Math Club this year.

Salesian

This is the 32nd edition of the Salesian, the annual publication of Mt. de Sales High School.

We employed a new design system this year. It is known as the magazine format; the contents of each page are arranged in combinations of three vertical columns. The magazine format also includes greater use of graphic devices such as tool lines, gray screens and wrap-around headlines.

The cover was drawn by Tom McMahon and was printed using a dual element laser on 80 point mortar board. The book is 204 pages long, and uses a new type style, Kabel. We hope you enjoy it.

Nobody ever accused our seniors of a lack of imagination when it comes to Pep Rally attire.

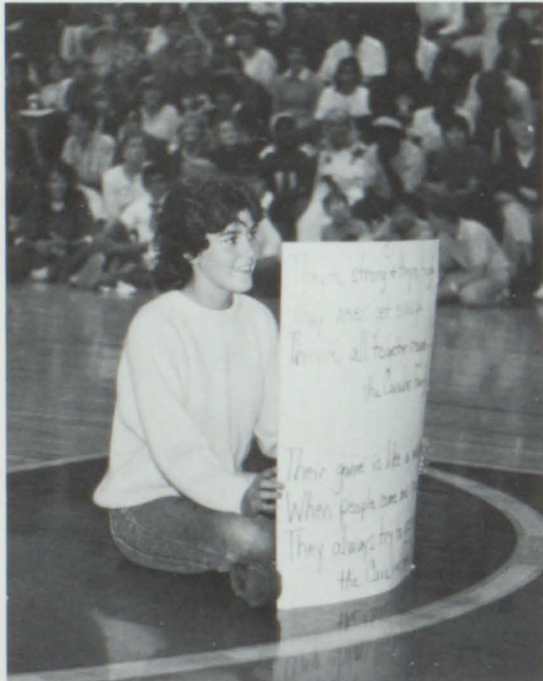

There is no truth to the rumors Coaches Tony and Chester Pierce played at MDS in the days before face masks!

The Broken Leg Brigade!

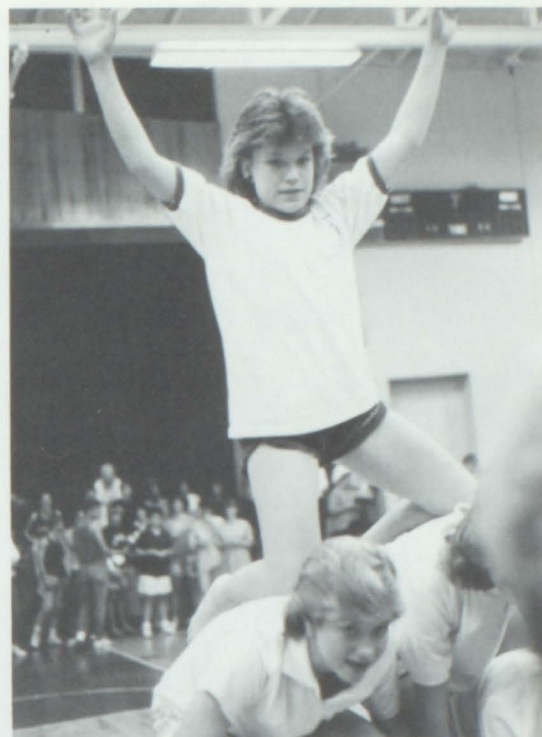

Costume Winners were Jennifer Brennan, Zach Sikes, Gail Pagala, Troy Edwards, Keith Vanderwalker, Melissa Shockley and Kathy Fraga.

Our eighth graders may have needed cue cards, but their rendition of "The Cavalier Family" got our Skit Night off to a good start.

Another bonfire, another Homecoming victory; this time over our region rival First Presbyterian.

Drama

Members of the cast and crew of Under the Gioconda Tree: Kathy Koski, Ann Mason, Sandy Kulhanek, Gail Pagala, Kathy Harings, Gemma Pagala, Sudonna Booie.

Mount de Sales's fall one-act play, Under The Gioconda Tree, is a tale of seven exiled Russian women. They were trapped in the Holy Land at the time of the Russian Revolution in 1917 and were unable to return to their homeland. Each has managed to preserve one facet of her personality to help her to cope in a world where she doesn't belong.

The women are led by Alexandra (Ann Mason), the niece of Czar Nicholas II, who rules over the enclave of women in the same way that her uncle once ruled Russia. She still dreams of a royal wedding for her daughter, who is now an elderly woman; an elderly woman entombed with the dreams of a 17-year-old princess. Catherine (Sudonna Booie) reacts to Alexandra's pretensions with cynicism, which upsets a more sensitive member of the enclave, Akulina (Jenny Brennan), who dreams of festive evenings with her husband, who died in the Revolution. It is a sad and deeply moving drama.

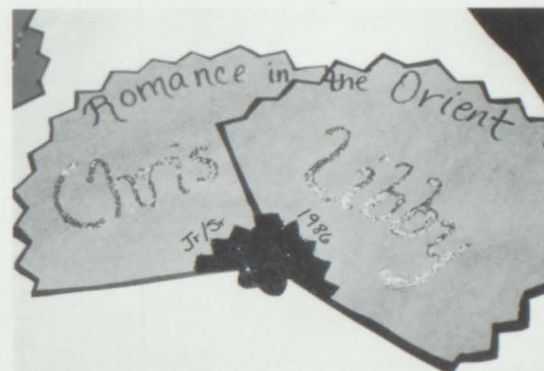

Our play placed third in region competition, and was directed by Miss Anne Rigby.

	APRIL 19, 1986	MUSIC BY BERT BARNETT & COLUMBIA

The Class of 1987 renewed an MDS tradition when in staged an elaborate and romantic Prom. No one really knows how many hours of hard work were required; we only know that it was time well spent.

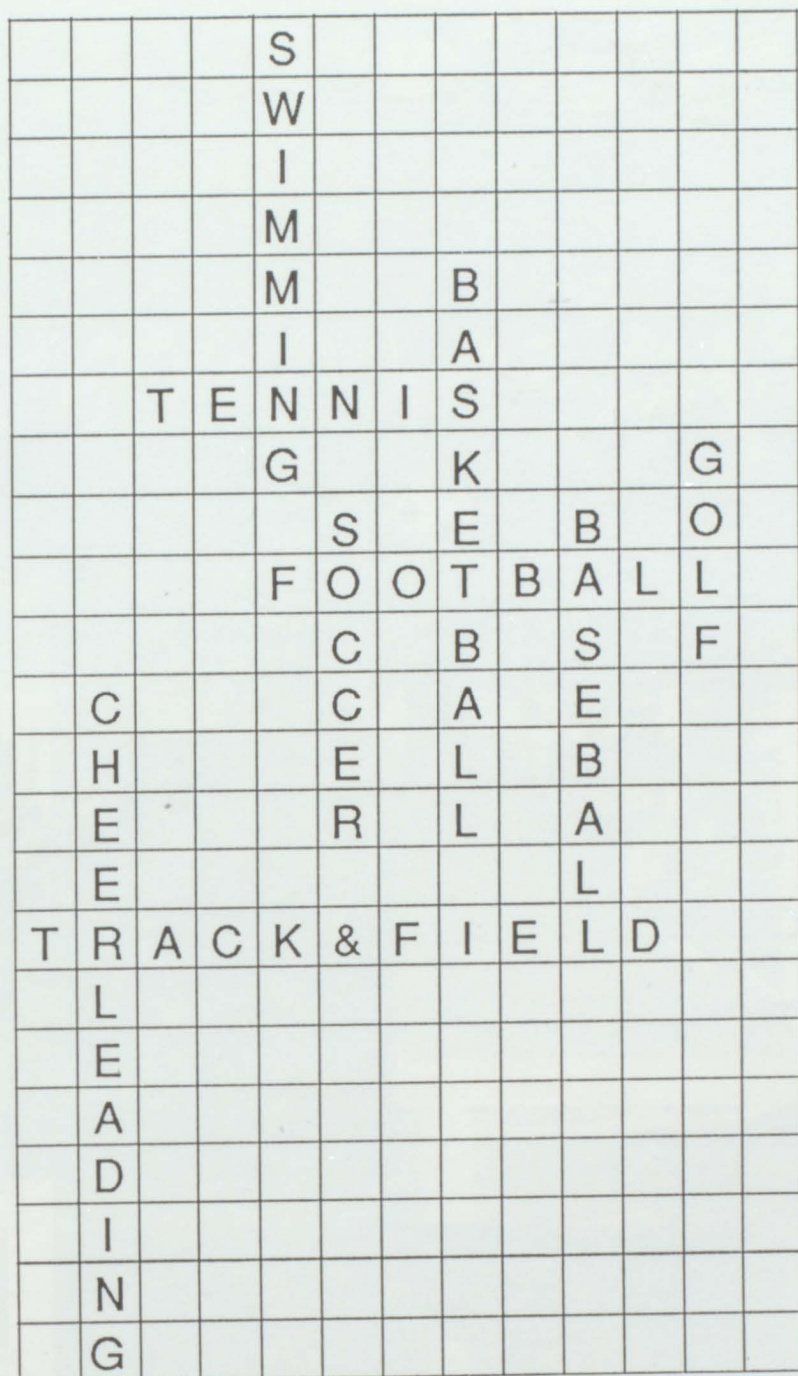

There were many committees involved in Junior-Senior; Mary Catherine Johnson chaired the Date Wall committee.

MDS Soccer: Phenomenal!

In only its second year of existence, the Mt. de Sales soccer program has already progressed far enough that it is among the best high school soccer programs in the GISA. This year, our soccer team played for the state championship, and though we came up two goals short, our team is young, experienced and toughened by tournament competition. It is safe to say that our soccer team will provide us with much excitement in the years to come.

Mt. de Sales soccer players earned a variety of postseason honors. Golf

In 1986, our Golf Team won the Region 3-AAA championship for the fifth season in a row. Chris Sutton was low scorer for the season, as the Cavalier golfers went on to finish fourth in the state tournament. Todd Kelleher was MDS's low scorer in the Region Tournament, and Craig Leachman was low scorer for MDS at the State Tournament. Pictured at left are Craig Leachman, Alex Smith, Steve Pierce, Chad Collier, and Chris Sutton.

Girls Basketball: Giving Our Best

Lea Dunaway crashes the Lady Vikings.

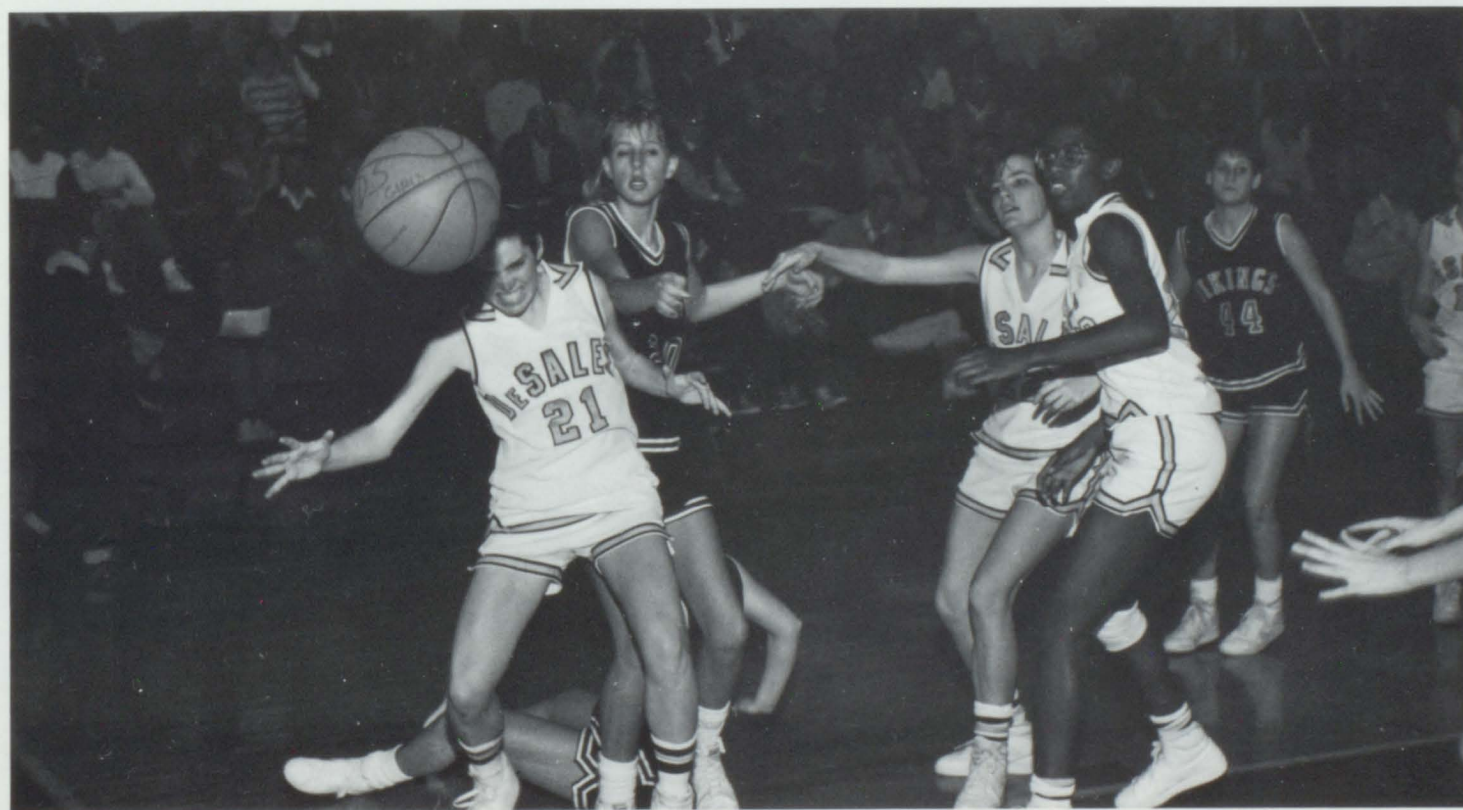

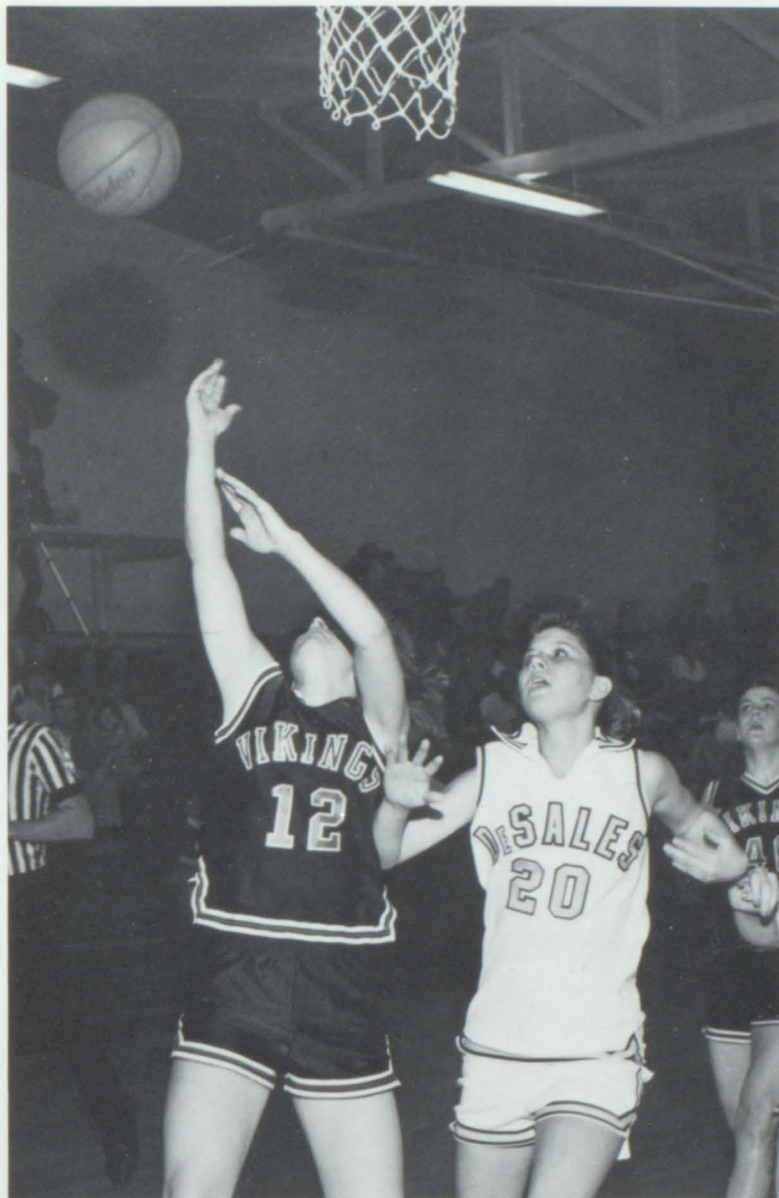

Our girls varsity team gave its very best in 1986-87, finishing with a region record of 4-4, and winning over Stratford, FPD and Tattnall. The luck of the draw was against the Lady Cavaliers in the Region Tournament, but they never made an excuse. They played smart, aggressive basketball, and they never gave up.

Picture above are the 1986 Lady Cavaliers (kneeling): Chanda Williams, Polly Roe, Kappi Brown, Leann Hardison, Lea Dunaway, Audrey Rowell, Dana Axman. Standing: Fiona Duncan (Manager), Joy Lee, Kim Howard, Kim McDaniel, Amanda Hubby, Jennifer Pace, Jennifer Lipson, Lisa Ennis (Manager).

It is with sincere regret but genuine good wishes that we say goodbye to Sister Pat Coward. She came to us in 1983 and instantly infused our girls basketball program with intelligence, hard work and pride. Thanks, Sister Pat, we love you and we'll miss you.

Cheerleading: Making It Complete

The human brain is an endlessly complex creation. It has synapses and neurons and it can store literally billions of pieces of data. In a flash of time, far faster than the world's fastest supercomputer, it can assimilate and recall, it can synthesize and integrate, allowing a person to know. Perhaps you have experienced that truly indescribable sensation of having what is for you an original thought. That is what your brain allows you to do. That is the part of your Mt. de Sales experience that shows on your official transcript and on your college applications. But that is only part of what you have learned here.

Your hands are more finely skilled than the most precise instrument that man can devise. With your hands, you learned many years ago to write; since then many of you have learned how to type. Either way, you have learned to take an idea that is inside of you and commit it to paper. You have learned to communicate. But your hands have led you to much more than this. You have learned how to catch a ball, how to dissect a frog, how to open a locker, how to fill out a computerized answer sheet. But that is still only part of what you have learned here.

the last word

Your heart is what matters most. Since you came to Mt. de Sales, your heart has been spoken to most eloquently, if not most obviously. In prayer, at Mass, in the touch of your hand on a classmate's shoulder, your heart has been the most distinctive and definitive thing about you. Your heart has been thrilled and broken and mended again by the practice of mercy; it is fuller now, more complete and in that sense of fullness is the essence of what you have learned.

If your head is for knowing, and if your hands are for doing, then your heart is for loving. And love is the only thing that really counts, because love is of God. If it is love that makes the world go round, then the world will go round a little easier when everyone learns to love as you have.

A final wish for you, the Class of 1987:

May you have warm words on a cold evening;

A full moon on a dark night;

And a smooth road on the journey of life.

Mt. de Sales High School has been located on this site for more than one hundred years. It is a significant part of the downtown historic district. It takes a special contractor to maintain these buildings, and to convert the properties adjacent to our campus to student use.

Mt. de Sales relies on only one building contractor for this important work. It is a contractor known for quality, integrity, and craftsmanship.
